CONTINUE DRIVE FOR COUNTY TITLE

Thrilling Fray Marked by Rough, Hard Play of Both Quintets

Fighting off a desperate third quarter rally of a hard fighting East Liverpool High basketball team flashed through to its sixth consecutive triumph of the season in a spectacular 28-22 triumph over the invading Potters in a thrilling and rough battle before an enthused throng of 1,200 spectators here Friday night.

The victory enabled the Quakers, tutored by Herbert Brown, youthful mentor only a year out of Ohio State where he won honors as a cage luminary, to continue their drive for a season's record unmarred by defeat and also brought them a step nearer a much coveted Columbiana county championship.

In fact, the victory practically clinched county laurels for the "Brownies" who previously had decisively defeated tossers representing Wellsville and Lisbon Highs.

One of the largest crowds in years watched last night's sensational battle, a typical East Liverpool-Salem duel with players of both teams battling hard for every advantage with the better team finally emerging as the victor.

Mullins Starts At Forward

Couch Brown started a new combination of Quaker performers in the fray as diminutive Jack Mullins started at forward. Benjamin Cope was stationed at the other offensive post with Wayne Sidinger at center and John Pukalski and Charles McCoskey at the guards. Three other players, Lawrence Kaercher, Earl Zelle and Eckstein also experienced action in the fray with every Quaker star sharing equal honors in the triumph.

Apparently slow to get started, the Quakers were held scoreless from the field for the first three minutes of action as the Potters arranged enroute to an easy and decisive victory and quickly gained a 10-4 lead after Cope, fouled by Mackey, tallied the first counter of the fray when he made his free toss good. Bill Laughlin, termed one of the greatest Pottery players in years, eluded Sidinger for an easy underbasket heave to give Liverpool a 2-1 edge. Incidentally it was the last bit of scoring the vaunted

By Explosion of Three
Oil Boilers

(By Associated Press)
HERTFORD, O., Jan. 13.—Five men were killed, at least one was missing and scores were injured in a terrific explosion which shook all Hertford when the Eastern Cotton Oil company boilers blew up this morning.

The mangled bodies of J. C. Wilder, engineer, and four Negro employees, Salter Wilson, John Wright, Kenley Forehand and Granson Broadie, were found in the debris.

One Negro was missing.

Three of the boilers blew up just after the night shift had gone off. Lack of water was given as the cause. The explosion shook homes and business structures like an earthquake.

The brick boiler room was blown to pieces and debris was scattered for 100 feet.

CHARGES DENIED BY WIFE AND DANCER

Court Gives Rudy Right
to Get Mexican Divorce
If He Wants It

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Lifeless was like that which the voice of Rudy Vallee so often has created with croonings of love, spoke another story for him today.

On evidence provided by transcriptions of telephone conversations between his wife and others—one of whom was Garfield Leon, an adagio dancer—Vallee won the right yesterday to sue for divorce wherever he chooses.

The specific ruling was a refusal by the appellate court to grant a petition of Mrs. Fay Webb Vallee by which she sought to enjoin the soft-singing maestro from obtaining a Mexican divorce.

"Shockingly Callous"
The transcriptions, obtained by a very simple device attached to a telephone extension and without the necessity of wire-tapping, led Vallee to tell the court (in his affidavit) that:

"My wife carried on her affair with Leon right under my roof, with shocking callousness."

(Last night on the west coast, where the principals of the action are located at present, denials of misconduct were made on the part of both Mrs. Vallee and Leon.)

One of the phone conversations, cut into wax by Vallee's telephone device, was described in the affidavit as follows:

Mrs. Vallee: Rudy is leaving at 10 o'clock to go to Philadelphia and I told him I would come to the station.

Leon: All right.

Mrs. Vallee: Listen, we have to be careful. Garfield, I mean, there are a lot of spies around watching us. But my chauffeur is my chauffeur, see? So would you get in a taxi and meet me in the park some place and we can ride around the park?

Leon: Oh, that sounds kind of mysterious.

"Sounds Nice," Also

Mrs. Vallee: I want to see you so badly. It sounds nice, doesn't it?

Leon: Yes. Well, all right.

The date of that conversation, Vallee's affidavit said, was March 23, 1933, and took place from his home.

Another recorded conversation led Vallee to aver:

"Not only was she (Mrs. Vallee) accumulating money she received from me for the purpose of maintaining an illicit love affair, but my wife told Leon she was 'stocking up.'"

A part of that conversation quoted Mrs. Vallee as saying to Leon:

"Yesterday I bought five dresses and three pairs of shoes and three hats. I'm stocking up."

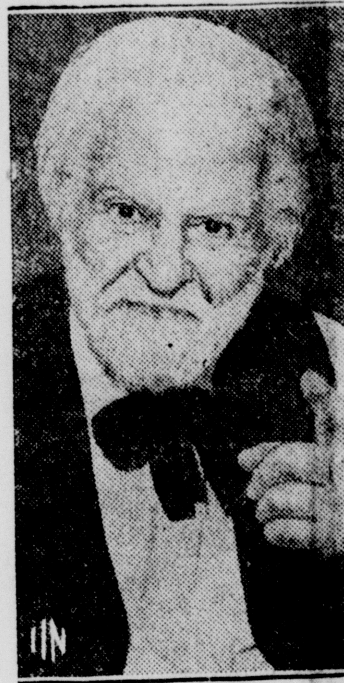

To which the voice of Leon replied:

W. C. T. U. BEGINS MEMBER DRIVE

Each Member Asked to Obtain 6 More; Campaign to End May 13

The Ohio Women's Christian Temperance union has inaugurated a membership campaign, which will continue through the winter months and close on Mother's day, May 13, officers of the local union announced today.

Every W. C. T. U. member is asked to secure six new members as a thank-offering for the 60th anniversary of the national union, which will be observed at the annual meeting next November in Cleveland. Each member getting this quota of new members will receive the title of "Cleveland-Six."

Mrs. Romans Sends Message

Mrs. Viola D. Romans, Columbus, state president, sent this message to the local union: "We hope that none of you are discouraged or dismayed, because of the repeal of the 18th amendment. In Isaiah 59:19, we read these words: 'When the enemy comes in like a flood, the Spirit of the Lord shall lift up a standard against him.' If we go straight on with our education and prayers, trusting and believing that God is able to bring Victory out of Defeat, there will come a change."

Each member is asked to observe the "Noon-Tide Hour of Prayer," as a part of the state union's plan for this year's work.

Other phases of the work to be emphasized will be work among the young people, pledge signing campaigns, education, medal contests, publicity and exhibits.

New Crusade Day Now

In pre-prohibition days, Jan. 16 was observed as Victory day, but since liquor has again been legalized, the day is to be observed as New Crusade day. The Ohio union was born in the Crusade of 1873, the unit having been instituted at Coshocton.

The Salem unit will observe the day with a social meeting at 2:30 p. m. next Tuesday at the home of Mrs. George Mountford, Vine ave.

CITY COUNCIL MAY HEAR CWA PLEA TUESDAY

Citizens Group Urges Projects of More Permanent Nature

11 NOW APPROVED FOR MUNICIPALITY

Approximately 225 Men at Work Out of Possible 341

Echoes of a citizens' meeting recently at city hall, at which it was the consensus that the city, if possible, should seek approval of CWA projects of a more permanent and lasting nature, probably will be heard as council meets Tuesday night.

Sponsors of the citizens' meeting today said that it is possible that recommendations of the group will be conveyed to the municipal legislators, although no definite program to this effect has been outlined yet.

Propose Building

It was proposed by some members of the citizens' group that projects such as the construction of a municipal light plant, or new city hall building be pushed, taking advantage of federal funds available under the CWA.

They contended that it is doubtful whether the city would again have the benefit of such an opportunity.

On the other hand, Mayor Norman Phillips and others questioned the wisdom of increasing the city's indebtedness to provide its share of funds necessary for construction of such projects.

The city now has 11 projects approved, according to CWA Director E. M. Lowry. Had these projects been approved prior to the filling of quotas, the city would have had 341 men at work. At the present time, according to estimates by Mrs. James Hill, city chief investigator, there are approximately 225 Salem men at work on the CWA, 134 on city projects and the remainder on others.

The 11 approved projects have a total value of $563,875, of which the city provides $6,636.40, and the federal government $49,612.35.

Awaiting Workers

While 11 projects have been approved, some are not being worked.

Acting on orders received from Ohio CWA headquarters at Columbus, E. M. Lowry of Salem, Columbiana county Civil Works director, today ordered work on the construction of the new stadium at Patterson field, East Liverpool, to be halted temporarily.

Work is to be suspended, Ohio officials ordered, while a new estimate of the cost of the project is prepared after reports were received that the original estimate filed on the project was too high.

East Liverpool board of education members immediately began the preparation of the new estimate today and planned to submit it to Lowry in Lisbon Monday.

They also plan to confer with Ohio CWA officials Tuesday and reported this morning that they expect to resume work on the stadium no later than Wednesday.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Saturday inspires a sort of let down in every calling, including columning. For unexplainable reasons columns are more difficult, the mood more melancholy. So as a whopper-up of drooping spirits, I commend this letter, second opened in the morning mail, and bless the writer thereof.I have watched this world zinging a gay way suddenly veer from its smooth course and ricochet toward no one knows where! At 40 I have been two years jobless. A zero in the world index. I lost $114,000 buying bonds a reputable institution assured me were safe. I am without faith.From a $7,500 a year apartment
I am writing from a $35 a month walk-up in Tenafly, N. J. Unless a relative of mine in Illinois pops
through with a check by next Wednesday, we—my wife and two small children—will move again. Or hurl ourselves on charity's mercies.A fairly sour picture but without exaggeration. Naturally we are dazed by these lightning shifts but it's astounding how calm. A year ago we passed the crying and feeling sorry for ourselves stage. The resignation to our fate is passive but not dumbly so."With myself as well as others
there operates a compensatory law
when one is squeezed dry of ambition. This long coast down hill was unpleasant but we hit bottom with this bump. We would not want to return to the grandeur, at least grandeur to us, that we left. That is no metaphysical effort. It's something entirely physiological that has taken place in our makeup. As much of a mystery to us as it would be to our acquaintances of the night clubs, afternoon teas and the theaters."I'd like to have a job but one of those pace-killing posts with continuous terror of dismissal no longer interests. Something around $2-000 a year would suffice our needs
and pay for a little life insurance.
Never again can the banking boys entice me with their philosophy of thrift. This same thing that happened to me happened to father and grandfather. It will happen to the next generation. Humanity's texture does not stiffen. It will always be floccose, pull and ravel."What I dredged out of a fairly successful career, now that I can view it in a cold analysis, was far from a sense of happiness. I was more worried than with plenty than I am now with nothing. So I prefer the less traveled tobacco road. Out of many friendships, three remained and they have grown flutery.
Staunch friendship is not a thing I care to take up again very seriously.The hands of the United States are far from clean in the record of defaulted obligations. Public and private issues have been orphaned,
to the indignation of foreign investors. True, the total does not approach the 20-billion-odd total of worthless foreign paper circulated in the United States, but the principle, of lack of it, is the same.ROUTINE MOVEMENT
In the matter-of-fact style employed by the navy, it can be recorded that six seaplanes were moved successfully from San Francisco to Honolulu on Jan. 12, 1934.
Brevity cannot rob the event of its aura of adventure, however.It was the longest flight ever attempted by airplanes in mass formation. From an aviation standpoint, it was a more important flight than the widely publicized
project undertaken by Italian airmen last summer. The 30 men who engaged in it have helped to make history.The greatest visible hazard to the layman happened to be one of the actual hazards of the trip. The Hawaiian Islands are a mere speck
in the vast expanse of the Pacific ocean. Honolulu represents an almost invisible pin prick—a point to which an aviator must fly directly if he would avoid missing it and careening into space beyond. One thinks of the young ship officer who charted his ship's position at a point in the center of Westminster Abbey. Navigation isn't exciting until it fails.Americans owe some of the hero-worship they bestowed on the Italian airmen last summer to their own aviators. With a minimum of ballyhoo and a maximum of preparation and ability they have proved that this country yields no honor to other nations in the science of flying.Morgan Declares

TESTIFIES

Following sensational testimony of James Maher, Post Office Department stenographer, before the Senate Committee investigating ocean and air mail contracts, that he had burned certain documents from the files of former Postmaster General Walter F. Brown on orders from the latter before he left office, the former member of the Hoover Cabinet may be called to testify before the committee. Another former Post Office Department aide, Paul Henderson, told that Postmaster General Brown had awarded air mail contracts totaling more than 5,000 miles without competitive bidding. Indications are that other members of the Hoover and Coolidge administrations may be called by Senator Hugo Black of Alabama, chairman of the investigating committee.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland
New York CityBecause of the apprehension and fear aroused by recent announcements of an epidemic of amebic dysentery, I deem it wise to tell you more about it. I am glad to say this epidemic is now under control. But the United States public health service
warns all health officers to guard against possible outbreaks of this dreaded disease.Most persons have the mistaken idea that amebic dysentery is exclusively a disease of the tropics. Though an uncommon disease in this climate, it is occasionally found in the southern part of the United States. Within the past decade a good many cases have been discovered in the north.The disease is caused by a parasite called "endameba histolytica", associated with uncleanness. This agent of harm is carried to the intestinal tract by infected food or drink.Infected Handlers of Food
The food becomes dangerous
when contaminated by infected handlers. As is true in the case of carriers of typhoid fever, persons may harbor the dysentery germs without knowing it. They spread the disease and of course are a menace to society.Unfortunately, the victim of amebic infection may not know he has the disease until many weeks have elapsed. In fact, symptoms may not appear for a period of two to twelve or even thirteen weeks. When the disease is recognized in its early stages, it can be cured. But the disorder is often overlooked and relief not sought until it is too late.Severe abdominal pain, headache, fever, acute diarrhea and heavy discharges of mucus and blood from the bowel are the most conspicuous signs of this type of dysentery. It is often confused with other aliments and may be incorrectly diagnosed as colitis, intestinal obstruction, peritonitis or appendicitis.An improperly treated case of amebic dysentery leads to the taken it imperils the health of other members of the family. Even though complete recovery may appear to have taken place, the victim, as I have said, may unknowingly harbor the parasites for years and in this way spread the afflic-tion to unknown numbers of others.Frequent Health Examinations Amebic dysentery should be suspected in every case of persistent and intermittent diarrhea. Thissuspicion may be well founded in communities where cases have been reported to the local health authorities.No one can deny the importance of careful health examinations of all food handlers. In the recent epidemic the source of infection was traced to contaminated food handlers, employees in eating establishments. All applicants for food handling positions, as well as those food handlers already employed,

should be subjected to frequent examinations. Strict hygiene and personal cleanliness must be enforced. When these measures are properly adhered to outbreaks of dysentery will no longer occur.Is this going to be just another DRUNKEN treatment. Information literature free.

KNAVE'S GIRL

By JOAN CLAYTON

COPYRIGHT 1932, KING FEATURES SYNDICATE, INC.

CHAPTER FORTY-EIGHT

Next day at noon Clark telephoned Patricia. She was sitting at the telephone. Clark's voice, happy and confident, came to her over the wire. She was planning their afternoon. As he had so often planned it, she had so often planned it. She had to clear her throat. She had heard her say she would. Then, I'll meet you at our usual place.

"Yes, Clark."

She did not say that this function would be their last together. But that knowledge was in her heart as she dressed. She selected her costume carefully, mechanically, choosing his favorite color, his favorite hat. As she had been used to down town along Fifth avenue, she took a bus and rode to the town square. The sun shone brightly on the sidewalk. The familiar side-street she descended. Clark was waiting in his usual place in his car, saw him spring to the curb, as she came down the steps. A moment later his arm was linked through her arm, he was smiling down at her in the old contented way. "You look just up the step of the new roadster and dropped on the creaking leather cushions at the side."

"I am tired."

"Is something wrong?"

"Everything is," she said and took the plunge. There must be no more meetings between them. Julian objected.

"Julian objects. That's a laugh," said Clark, half annoyed, half amused, wholly unconcerned. "Surely your face did not lighten. 'Surely you aren't serious. You're not going to let him get away with any such nonsense?'"

The silence deepened between them. Patricia was staring at the shiny metal of the dashboard. Clark regarded her anxiously, perturbed, his forehead drawn in puzzled lines. The girl raised eyes that shone with tears.

"I can do anything else Clark. After all I live with him."

"That's just it," he said peremptorily and in some vague fashion, relieved. "That's been the trouble all along. I've been wanting for some time to talk to you seriously."

Start Campaign To Cut CWA Accidents

A safety-first campaign to lower the Columbiana county CWA accident rate has been inaugurated, E. M. Lowry, CWA director, announced today.

More than 3,000 CWA employees have enrolled. Foremen on all CWA projects have been pledged to reduce the number of accidents.

H. J. Lynch, safety chief, attributes a higher accident rate due to men returning to work after years of idleness. He is especially fearful that the men will be injured by ditch cave-ins or the clipping of tools. The traveling public is asked to be especially careful when passing CWA workmen on state highways.

A Review of the Day's News

By Arthur Brisbane

VICE ADMIRAL Suetso, commander of Japan's combined fleets, is supposed to have said that the United States was trying to "encircle Japan" in a hostile way and that Japan and the United States would surely have war. The United States of course would be the aggressor.

Very probably Admiral Suetso was quoted incorrectly. Men in high stations rarely talk foolishly in Japan.

INSTEAD of dreaming dreams and seeing visions concerning United States hostility, which does not exist, the wise Japanese will concentrate on danger close at home, on the edge of Manchukuo, namely the Russian danger.

E. L. Cord, who manufactures airplanes, quotes excellent authority to the effect that Russia at this moment has six factories manufacturing airplanes, any one of them bigger than all the airplane factories in the United States put together.

RUSSIA is working at airplanes of every type, especially on giant planes for long journeys, nonstop. Millions of young men in Russia have been made to study aerodynamics, tens of thousands of them have been taught the actual handling of an airplane.

If any danger confronts Japan it is Russia, not well-meaning, good-natured United States, which asks only to be left alone.

AT THE SAME TIME, the fact that six planes of the American navy flew in formation from California to Hawaii, 2,400 miles in 24 hours, interests the world generally.

An Italian statesman, trying to make our flesh creep, told us the other day that Japan would surely attack the United States soon, and it would take American ships 12 days to go from California to the Japanese coast. That would depend on what kind of ships we might use. Going over the Pacific, 2,400 miles in 24 hours, would not take long to reach any part of the coast in Asia.

TOMORROW in Rome, the pope, broadcasting, will solemnly announce that Mother Thourer, healer and educator during the period of the French Revolution, has been honored by the addition of her name to the ranks of Catholic saints.

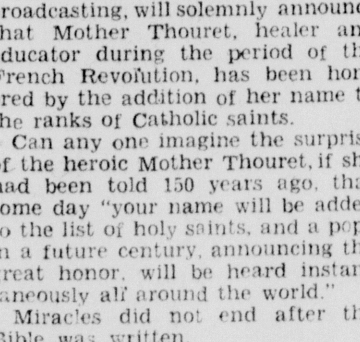

Can any one imagine the surprise of the heroic Mother Thourer, if she had been told 150 years ago, that some day "your name will be added to the list of holy saints, and a pope in a future century, announcing the great honor, will be heard instantaneously all around the world."

Miracles did not end after the Bible was written.

similar indictments against each. Paul Covert, Salem, driving while intoxicated.

Report on Jail

Following an inspection of the county jail, the jury filed this report with the court.

The grand jurors visited the county jail, and find the interior of the structure in splendid and sanitary condition throughout, considering the age of the building.

"The grand jury heartily commends Sheriff and Mrs. Frank Ballantine and assistants for the condition in which the jail is kept."

"We feel that a new building is greatly to be desired, but if lack of funds make such a project impossible at this time, we would suggest new linoleum for the kitchen floor, also a new sink for the kitchen."

HOME-MAKING HELPS

By Wanda Barton

WHEN YOUR CHILDREN GIVE A "TEA PARTY"

EVEN if your youngsters are quite small yet, why shouldn't they invite their little chums and have a tea party all their own? Such occasions make them happy and color their memories of home during the years to come. It doesn't cost much, of course, it does entail some effort, but the happy result, the main thing, is that the food should be simple yet dainty and that the decorations should be nice.

Gay Colorings

If there is old cloth and a gay paper cloth over the table, the youngsters won't mind it at all. The paper napkins should, of course, match it in color. A visit to a popular price store will yield such paper tablecloths and matching serviettes. Instead of flowers or a fancy centerpiece, we rather think that an average youngster would rather see a decorated basket filled with tiny packages.

A basket that once held flowers, a beautiful gilded one, would be ideal. A ribbon tied to each present could be trailed across the table to each child's plate and it would have at the end a gay label with the name of the recipient. There'll be fun when the ribbons are pulled and each visitor gets his or her little gift.

Receive a simple present by this route than have a much grander gift merely handed to them. When it comes to china, it doesn't matter much if the cups and saucers are not all of one pattern. As long as there are platters on the table filled with goodies, that's the main thing.

Fancy Sandwiches

Use your cutters when making sandwiches or even when preparing bread and butter. Fancy shapes are so different and so party-like. Be careful to see that the fillings are fairly simple. Apricot jam and peanut butter is nice, as is cheese spread with mayonnaise. Small, simple cakes or sponge mixture will disappear quickly and so will sugar cakes and cookies. Your grocer will suggest a wide variety of delightful cookies, made with thought to children's parties.

Clever Cakes

Nice cake can be made by making a quantity of almond paste and forming it into tiny pastry shapes. These should be filled with variously flavored custard mixtures or cream and set to brown just a bit in a moderate oven. Raisin bread rolled up or toasted is a nice change from ordinary bread and butter, and plain buns split, toasted and buttered are as nutritious as they are delicious.

Have ready a supply of games. Although there are many new ones on the market, don't neglect the old standbys for these will be new to the majority of the youngsters.

Do Your Own Marketing

IF THE past few years have taught us housewives nothing else, they have made us realize that shopping is something that should receive our constant personal attention. Women who used to order by telephone and pay bills with but a cursory check-up are amazed now that they go shopping themselves.

Fresh Fruits

But now we have learned the satisfaction of doing our own marketing and have made up our mind, collectively and individually, that we are going to continue the practice even though money is easier, the goods are fresher. We see just what we want. We are able to take advantage of each day's bargains and this in itself often makes a considerable saving. You will get the right cuts of meat, and often the butcher will advise a different and less expensive cut for a particular dish. Vegetables and fruits will be fresh, and salads will be just as you want them.

Avoid Mounting Bills

If you possibly can, pay for what you buy when you buy it. Tragedies have resulted from bills that have been allowed to mount. And as bills increase, it becomes correspondingly difficult to check up on them.

See what you want to buy and pay for it when you buy it. Then there will never be any trouble in that part of your housekeeping task. Shopkeepers will respect you and will do their utmost to treat you right. For you are the kind of customer that makes a store proprietor or clerk feel that no trouble is too great to give you just what you want.

EMMANUEL AMERICAN LUTHERAN

291 S. Broadway. Rev. J. Bauman, pastor. Frank Hopperich, S. School Supt.

"We Preach and Teach Christ Crucified."

Humanity cost such an enormous price. That is why man is appraised higher under Christianity than anywhere else in the whole world. This supreme cost of our Salvation makes us the very highest priced values in the universe. So far as we know, God never sent His Son to save a planet slipping from its orbit, nor bring the ruins back that had fallen or replace it. Not even for the planetary system has he done it; but for mankind. He reckoned out the cost of our redemption when he had slipped from our orbit and crashed direct into wickedness and sin. At the cost of His Son we have been bought. Thus we see at what a great price He bought us. "Not with gold or silver, but with his holy precious blood," that he shed so abundantly on Calvary's cross. If you have no church home, we invite you to come to our services and hear God's message of Salvation.

Salem Tossers Upset East Liverpool In Sensational Contest

QUAKERS TOO STRONG FOR INVADING SQUAD AS SIDINGER STARS

Brownmen Flash Strong Fourth-Period Attack To Gain 28-22 Verdict Before Capacity Throng of More Than 1,000 Fans Friday Night

Laughlin was to do until the last two minutes of play as Sidinger smothered him completely on offense and also outclassed him on defense.

Potters Gain Early Lead

Mackey, who was to play his best game of his career in this fray, added two points to the Ceramics' total with a short toss. Cope, again fouled by Mackey, tallied his second free throw but Stewart dribbled under the Salem hoop for an easy side shot to give the invaders a 6-2 advantage. Sidinger dribbled away from Laughlin for Salem's first basket from action but Stewart again sneaked away from the Quaker defense and brought the score to 6-4. Mackey made it 10-4 with a toss from short range and the Quakers, baffled at their inability to halt the visitors, called time out.

Brown here inserted Kaercher as a replacement for Mullins and the teams continued to battle furiously. Salem having improved greatly in its play in all departments after the time out. McCloskey brought new hope to the throng of home-town fans as he zoomed the leather through the hoop from long range and Pukaski duplicated his shot for another two-point.

The Potters called time out but as they resumed the Brownmen started where they left off with Sidinger taking a pass from Kaercher for the shot that evened the score at 10-10. The quarter ended a minute later with the count still deadlocked.

Quakers Gain Lead

Zelle was inserted into the fray for Cope and Blatchford replaced Mackey for the Potters. Before there was any scoring Cope returned into the battle and seconds afterward Sidinger took a pass from him to heave the sphere through the basket to put Salem in front. Never again was Salem to relinquish the lead as Cope shot in his third consecutive foul and Pukaski fouled from long distance. Stewart, fouled by McCloskey, tallied a free toss for what proved to be the invaders' only score during the period.

Foul shots by McCloskey and Cope put Salem in front by two more points and the score stood at 17-11 as the half closed.

Mackey, returning to the Pottery lineup, ran wild in the third quarter as Tom Dixon's scrappy combine completely outplayed Salem and came within two points of knotting the count. Booth scored a foul then Mackey shot the ball through the basket from the center of the floor. Cope registered a short shot for Salem but Mackey came right back with another long loss and a foul by Dietz brought Liverpool's total to 17, with Salem holding just a two-point edge as the fourth period started.

Salem Flashes Real Power

It wasn't long, however, before every spectator became convinced of the superiority of the Brownmen. Almost before the visitors were able

RESERVES LOSE TO LIVERPOOL

Potters Too Strong For Quakers and Gain 19-9 Decision

East Liverpool reserves proved far too strong for Salem High reserves as they easily subdued the Quakers to gain a 19-9 decision in a one-sided preliminary fray here Friday night.

The invaders, tutored by Leland Schachern, flashed a brilliant defense to hold the Quakers scoreless in the first period as they ran up a 5-0 advantage then allowed Salem but one point in the second stanza and led 11-1 at halftime. Fifteen minutes of play had elapsed before Salem broke into the scoring.

The Potters continued to hold a big edge in the third period and only in the final stanza was Salem able to outscore the visitors. But then it was too late, for the locals were behind 18-4 as the third quarter terminated.

It was one of the roughest reserve games ever played here with two players from each team being ejected via the personal foul route.

CANTON DEFEATS ALLIANCE, DOVER CAGERS TRIUMPH

Aviators Prove Easy Victim For Powerful McKinley Squad

CANTON, Jan. 13.—Canton McKinley High school's fast-stepping cagers made their debut in the annual three-cornered Stark county title series here last night with an easy 46-19 victory over Alliance High.

The victory was McKinley's sixth straight and the defeat was Alliance' fifth in seven starts.

The Bulldogs launched into their scoring rampage in the very first quarter and before they had finished their work for the evening, had the Aviators hopelessly outclassed.

Canton Takes Big Lead

The Bulldogs hopped into a 9-2 lead in the first quarter and increased it to 25-7 at the half. They held the visitors scoreless in the third period, while hoisting their own total to 40 and then coasted through the fourth.

Coach Jimmy Aiken sent in his second-stringers early in the third period and they finished the game.

Ruth Signs For $35,000

THE ONE AND ONLY BABE RUTH

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Fat and 40 he may be, but Babe Ruth's part-time job with the New York Yankees will net him about $35,000 next summer.

That's a drop of around 55 percent from the record top of $80,000 he received for his labors in 1930 and 1931 but it will buy a lot of groceries and still leaves Ruth the highest paid performer in the game.

The Bambino will not sign his contract until next Monday but all the details were agreed to when Ruth and Col. Jacob Ruppert went to a brief conference at the Col. Zupancic's yesterday. Where it was used to take two months to get the big fellow in line, Col. Ruppert wound up this conference in a few minutes. He mentioned his price.

probably $30,000. The Babe countered with a higher ante, possibly $40,000. Then, without further argument, a compromise was effected, in all likelihood at $35,000.

The big slugger, who appeared in 137 games last season although he played only a few innings in a good many of them, had anticipated another cut and signified his willingness to accept it provided it was "reasonable."

Never before in his 15 years with the Yankees has the former home run king ever signed an agreement on the "first bounce."

Although he has lost much of his speed and has been forced to yield his home run crown to Jimmie Foxx, Ruth expects to play in at least 100 games for the Yankees in 1934. After that he may be ready to quit.

15 Veterans, Eight Rookies Called to Chicago Cub Camp

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY

United Press Staff Correspondent

When the Chicago Cubs gather at their Catalina Island training camp in March, they will be only two players over mid-season major league limit of 25. The Cubs' squad of 25 will be one of the smallest any major league team will assemble for spring practice.

The Cubs wedded out most of their surplus talent during the winter training only 15 veterans from last year's club. In bringing in new talent Manager Charlie Grimm has concentrated on players of proven ability or youngsters who have a good chance to break into the regular lineup. Of the 19 new comers only one comes from a club of below Class AA ranking.

Klein Joins Club

The most important addition to the Cubs is Chuck Klein, National League batting champion, who was obtained in a trade with the Phillies. The other additions are Pitchers Roy Jover, Bill Lee, and Dick Ward; Infielders Dolph Camilli and Augie Galan; Outfielder George Stankiewicz; and Catchers Benny Tate, Gordon Phelps and Walter Goebel.

Of this group only Camilli and Phelps have appeared in Cubs' uniform. They joined the club late last season.

Grimm is counting heavily on the three new pitchers, Jover and Lee, southpaws and Ward, right-hander, to bolster the pitching staff. Jover won 22 games and lost 14 for Oakland last season. Lee won 21 games and lost 9 for Columbus. Ward won 25 games and lost 9 for Los Angeles.

The rest of the pitching staff will be composed of veterans, Lon Warneke, Guy Bush, Charlie Root, Bud Tinning, Pat Malone and Lynn Nelson.

WABASH, Ind.—A robust hand-barter type hirsute growth that brought back memories of beer schooners driving along a polished bar enabled Fred Ridenour to win over eight other contestants in the annual Mustache Club contest at Twenty-fourth of here. Women judges awarded Ridenour a 10-pound bag of sugar as first prize.

ABERDEEN, Wash.—This city claims the oldest voter in the state, perhaps the nation. He is Samuel Benn, 122-year-old Aberdeen founder. Mr. Benn has been voting since 1853 and has signed the new permanent registration books and can vote for the remainder of his life, unless he moves, which is unlikely.

Services Planned By Young People

Special services being held at the First Friends church over the weekend are sponsored by the Young People's society and are in charge of a quartet from the Cleveland Bible institute composed of Miss Gertrude Coats of the faculty, who presides; Arthur Ford, son of Jefferson Ford, missionary in Africa, and Howard Kuhn, both seniors, and Miss Lois Linton, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Lawrence Linton, Damascus, student at the institute, and a pianist.

Ford, half artist, gave a talk on the Bible. As he talked he drew a picture of the Bible nailed to the cross, and named the picture "The Modern Crucifixion."

Kuhn gave an inspirational talk on "Christian Establishment." He admonished young people not to be satisfied with just the "better things of life" but to seek to attain "the best that God has for every person who will seek him with the whole heart." He gave the Bible character Moses as an example of one who had a "long range view" and refused to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season, and endured as "seeing Him (Jesus Christ) who is invisible."

The speaker brought out the thought that every believer needs to be cleansed from inbred sin, through the baptism of the Holy Ghost, and that it took this experience to stabilize him.

Besides the services at the Salem church, the quartet will give special numbers at the New Middleton Sunday school session at 2:30 p. m. Sunday.

BOWMAN ELUDES STATE OFFICERS

Robber-Terrorist Still at Large Despite Efforts of Hundreds Joining in Chase

COLUMBUS, Jan. 13 — The elusive Neal Bowman, robber-terrorist was still at large today despite efforts of hundreds of police officers to get their hands on him.

Several hours of searching through the hills of Athens county last night failed to produce any tangible proof that the desperado, who escaped from the Lima State hospital for criminal insane Christmas day, was in those parts, as a result state highway patrolmen, who have been in charge of the search were ordered to return to their stations.

Various reports that Bowman was at Athens, Zanesville, and other towns in the general vicinity of Athens county were checked but to no avail.

At one time during the last 24 hours, Bowman was reported on the verge of capture, but as on many previous occasions, he was not found.

Warning Fails

"Dinner At Eight", With Large Cast of Film Stars, Comes Here Sunday; Kay Francis Feature Ends Tonight

JOHN BARRYMORE, LIONEL BARRYMORE, MARIE DRESSLER, LEE TRACY, BILLIE BURKE, WALLACE BEERY and JEAN HARLOW in "DINNER AT EIGHT"

TWO pictures eagerly awaited by fans come to the State theater this week with the showing of "Dinner At Eight" on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday and "Morning Glory" on Wednesday and Thursday.

Has Proven Hit
Little need be said here about the merits of the former film or of its great cast. "Dinner At Eight" has clicked with theater patrons. Each of its magnificent cast is said to give an excellent performance and there is a most entertaining plot and locale. There are Marie Dressler, John and Lionel Barrymore, Wallace Beery, Jean Harlow, Lee Tracy, Edmund Lowe, Billie Burke, Madge Evans, Phillips Holmes, Karen Morley, Jean Hersholt, Louise Crosser Hale, May Robson, Preston Foster, Grant Mitchell and Elizabeth Patterson—one of the most outstanding casts ever assembled.

It all concerns a dinner party given by Millent Jordan, socially inclined wife of Oliver Jordan. Some prominent guests, some not so prominent, some rather distasteful to the hostess, some invited because they will help her husband in business—all these make up a strange group of guests. There is a celebrated and elevated star who has lost her beauty through the years but not her delicious wit; there is Larry Renault, Broadway matinee idol who has lost his popularity, and daughter of the hostess, who is madly in love with Larry; there is Dan Packard, uncouth, hardboiled self-made millionaire and his "fairy loving" wife, Katy; Max Kane, Broadway theatrical agent who tries in vain to stop Larry from drinking; Ernest, the young man who is engaged to Paula, Jo Stengel, producer and still others.

One of Year's Best
"Morning Glory", classed in all movie polls as one of the years best, stars the fascinating Katharine Hepburn in a role as famous as her lovable Jo in "Little Women". With Miss Hepburn are Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Adolphe Menjou.

This time Katharine Hepburn is found cast as a wayward girl who gets a spectacular chance for fame in a new play.

Her struggle for this achievement and the faith she keeps in her own abilities even when she is given little encouragement form the basis of an interesting and different story. But it is the performance of the star that makes this picture rank in the class it does—as always she lives in the part she plays.

Comedy On Friday
Following this picture will be Joe E. Brown's latest, "Son of a Sailor", Friday and Saturday. With the lad of the spacious mouth are Jean Muir, Frank McHugh, Johnny Mack Brown, Tselma Todd, Sheila Terry and Myrna Kennedy.

As its name implies Joe is cast as a sailor who makes trouble for his password. Ed Wynn will be seen at the Grand next Saturday and Sunday when his picture, "The Chief", is scheduled. Dorothy Mackaill, Charles "Chic" Sales, William Boyd and C. Henry Gordon are others.

Install Chimes In Atwater Church

At Atwater Center, Portage county, there is located the Congregational church, dedicated in 1841 and said to be one of the best examples of Colonial architecture in northeastern Ohio.

It is located near the intersection of routes 17 and 223. Many people drive long distances to see the chime artists, architects and others interested in historic buildings.

A set of chimes of 20 tones is being installed in the tower of the church and will be ready for the premier concert by F. L. C. Walker, the expert chime from Baltimore, Md., to be given at 7 this evening.

preliminary to a meeting, in Sunday school room of the church, of the reserve officers, U. S. of Portage county and regular reserve officers to be invited outside the county.

Another concert will be given noon Sunday, immediately following the close of the morning service.

SIGN POSTS

IMAGINE yourself on an unfamiliar highway at night in the country. You want to go to Allison. You come to a forked road. No signs! Which way? You turn left and come to a crossroad. No signs. You turn right. You come to a town. It proves to be liberty. You go back to the fork and turn left. A mile or so farther on you come to another crossroad. A sign pointing right says "Allison, three miles."

But for that sign-post you might have traveled miles — spent hours, and come short of your destination.

Imagine yourself in need of hosiery, clothing, breakfast foods or anything else, and this newspaper without advertisements! Think of the number of stores you would have to visit, qualities and prices to check, reliabilities to consider.

Advertisements are sign-posts. They are information. They save you from wandering aimlessly from store to store. They keep you advised of the newest products; of the latest values. They save you time, and put greater buying power in your dollars. They assure you of quality and service in merchandise, for only honest goods honestly advertised can stand the spotlight of publicity.
